PR Client Service Licence

PR Client Service Licence

Introduction:

This licence is exclusively for public relations ("PR") agencies and grants such agencies the right to supply articles from NLA represented publications, to their clients, in whatever format the clients require.

Price:

The PR Agency pays a flat fee of £236.00 for each employee of its clients to whom it supplies NLA content (either directly or via a media monitoring service set up on the client's behalf).

Example

PR Agency XYZ manages media relations for two of its clients (ABC Ltd and 123 plc). ABC Ltd has requested that articles are supplied to two of its employees. 123 plc has a single media relations officer receiving articles.

The PR agency pays a total fee of £672.00 per annum to supply articles to these two clients.

PR Agency Client	No. of employees at each client receiving articles	Cost
ABC Ltd	2	£472
123 plc	1	£236
Total cost (excl. VAT)		£708

Additional licences for the PR agencies own media monitoring:

The PR Client Service Licence only covers the PR Agency to supply articles to clients. However, if a PR Agency employs five or fewer staff, the Licence permits internal copying in addition.

PR Agencies employing more than five staff and monitoring NLA content for their own purposes will need a Business Licence for their internal copying (or a Web End User Licence if it only receives web links from a web aggregator). If the PR Agency posts clips on their corporate website(s) or social media page(s), a Corporate Website Republishing Licence will also be required.

Additional Client licences

This Licence does not cover any copying of articles the client may wish to undertake. If a client wishes to:- (1) circulate or make any form of copy of the articles sent to them; and / or (2) post the articles on their own website(s) or social media page(s) then they will need a Business Licence for (1) (internal copying) and / or a Corporate Website Republishing Licence for (2) (external copying).

Extended or Indefinite Access Extension

Under the PR Client Service Licence Terms and Conditions, Licensees cannot create a library or archive of NLA represented content, whether this be sourced independently, or provided to you (or your client) by a Media Monitoring Organisation (MMO). MMO supplied content in particular is only accessible for 28 days after it is made available to you (or your client).

NLA offers both an Extended Access option and an Indefinite Access option. Extended Access allows you (or your client) to access content for up to 365 days (subject to the Licence Terms and Conditions). Indefinite Access allows access to content for an indefinite period (subject to the Licence Terms and Conditions). Extended Access is charged at 10% of the overall fee, whilst Indefinite Access is charged at 30% of the overall fee. As PR agencies provide access to content for clients in various ways, please contact NLA for details of how the Extended or Indefinite Access is applied in your case.
