PR Price List Newspapers & Magazines

Basic Cover

This price list should be read in conjunction with the Public Relations Application Form and Terms & Conditions. This licence is suitable for any organisation copying content from NLA represented publications to a third party such as clients or members.

The basic cover gives all organisations the right to take occasional copies from the national newspapers for internal copying. Occasional copying includes photocopying and printing of articles to scanning and emailing the occasional article to a colleague.

The basic cover fee is based on your total staff headcount or turnover. The fee payable is the lower of the two amounts.

To determine your organisation's fee, select your staff headcount or turnover from the first two rows of the table below.

Client Copying

Client copying allows the supply of newspaper and magazine content to your clients or members.

The licence includes cover for (but not limited to):

- Supplying photocopied articles to clients or members
- Scanning and emailing articles to clients or members
- Allowing clients or members access to your media monitoring service as permitted users
- Supplying website content to clients or members

If you supply photocopied content to clients the paper fee payable is shown in the table below and is charged on the basis of per client or member supplied.

If you supply content to clients or members via email then this charge will be based on the number of email addresses that content is sent.

If you subscribe to a media monitoring service, to which your clients have access, they will need to be included as permitted users on your licence.

If you have requested cover for regional newspapers and magazines, the basic client copying fee will take that number into account as set out into the tables below.

Please contact us for details and prices if you want to copy foreign newspapers, or premium magazines, to clients.

Indemnity - protection against previously unlicensed copying

NLA can cover you for historic unlicensed copying in the form of an indemnity. This legitimises earlier activity and is calculated using the current Price List.

To confirm the indemnity fee payable, please advise NLA of the date on which your organisation's copying commenced (noting that indemnity fees are subject to a maximum duration of six years in accordance with the Limitation Act 1980*).

If your organisation's copying habits or licence coverage details have changed over the applicable time, please provide further information regarding such variation, as this may increase or decrease the fees quoted.

Worked example

A company advised NLA they commenced copying 6 months prior to their initial licence application.

Annual licence	£1,000
Six months of unlicensed copying (£1000*50%)	£500
Total	£1,500

Extended Access Extension - retain access to content for up to 365 days

Under our standard Terms and Conditions, Licensees cannot create a library or archive of NLA represented content, whether this is sourced independently, or provided to you by a media monitoring organisation (MMO). MMO supplied content in particular is only accessible for 28 days after it is made available to you.

If you prefer to hold on to content for longer, or to access your MMO supplied content beyond the 28 day period, then you may like the "Extended Access" option. Extended Access gives you permission to access content for up to 365 calendar days.

Cost - The Extended Access Extension is optional, and is priced at 10% of your overall licence cost (excluding Indemnity Fees)
